Dear Mr. Walker:

Re: Grand Chief Arlen Dumas

Please be advised that our firm is litigation counsel for APTN and in that capacity, I am responding to your letter to APTN dated July 10, 2019.

Contrary to what you have asserted in your letter, our client has made diligent inquiries and efforts before publishing/broadcasting information about your client. Included in my client's diligence were repeated attempts to communicate with your client regarding the subject matter of what was published/broadcast and despite these attempts, your client declined the opportunity afforded to be interviewed concerning the subject matter in question. Your client issued a press release and APTN provided a fair and accurate report on the content thereof.

What APTN has published/broadcast is a fair and accurate report on a matter of public interest. My client remains prepared to give your client the opportunity to be interviewed in this matter and will rely upon this fact in responding to any proceeding that you may be instructed to initiate.

Yours truly,

HILL SOKALSKI WALSH LLP
